

The Menominee Megaphone

June 24, 2016 • The Set and Stage Issue

Who's Next?

By Jason Feldgreber and Editors

It was a beautiful Eagle River evening. The sun was setting over the western trees and colors were radiating across the Northwoods sky. JASON, TJ and ANDREW were patrolling the Friendly Confines when, out of the corner of their eyes, they noticed three C.I.T.s practicing beach volleyball on the new sand court. There they stood gingerly passing the volleyball—MAX ZLATNIKOV, ROSS FISHER and JACKSON WEIL. The admins immediately knew what needed to be done. In a flying-v formation, they made their way over to the court and laid down their challenge. It was simple: one game with rally scoring to 25. JASON, TJ and ANDREW even did the respectable thing and opted for the west side of the court, which everyone knows is inferior to the east side because it slopes into the gully. They were stacked against the three young, energetic and in-shape 16-year olds. It was a hard-fought battle. Bumps were bumped, sets were set and spikes were spiked. Placement was key for the administration, which kept the two teams neck-and-neck for 45 grueling minutes. About three quarters of the way through the game, canteen was supposed to start. JOSH INGRAM manned the office with the P.A. system at his hand. A simple call for canteen, something that was second nature for INGRAM by now, was disrupted by the startling discovery that there were no dollar bills remaining. Dollar bills are crucially important for a successful canteen because they ensure that campers can buy a pop. INGRAM sent five campers on a mission around camp to retrieve bills, effectively postponing canteen for no less than 22 minutes. Over on the sand court, the new time diversion ensured that the game could be finished. After a score of 16 to 16, the admin took the serve and rattled off five straight points. While the C.I.T.s tried to rally, their efforts were for not as the admin took the match. JASON would like to say how humbled the administration are after this victory. He welcomes any and all challengers and hopes we can continue this strong tradition of 3-on-3 volleyball. All six players embodied every aspect of the Menominee way for each and every second that they were on the court. At the end, both sides cheered and shook hands. Traditional volleyball decorum was kept throughout the entire set, except when JACKSON WEIL returned the ball over the net. As TAYLOR BEAUSEIGNEUR would say, “oh that’s a big no-no.”

LEVI PASIKOV takes aim at Archery during afternoon general

ARI GOLDBERG shows off his kayaking skills on beautiful Sand Lake

Tomorrow's Weather Report

85°

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms early with a 30% chance of rain. At night, thunderstorms are likely with a 90% chance of rain.

Riddle of the Day

I can only live where there is light, but I die if the light shines on me.
What am I?

First one to bring a correct answer to Taylor or Andrew will win a free canteen

Lights, Camera, Movie Night!

By Editors

Only at Camp Menominee can you make your favorite movie into a hilarious spoof for an entire camp to enjoy. Well, that's exactly what the cabins did last night during Movie Night. The objective was simple: each cabin took a movie and reenacted it while incorporating camp in some way. Cabins were judged on five criteria: humor, originality, participation, creativity and taste. Last night's judges, JOSH KRAVITZ, BRANDON PTASZNIK and TAYLOR BEAUSEIGNEUR, kept these standards. Each cabin clearly put a great deal of thought into their skits. Cabin 3 performed Jason Wonka, a spin-off of Willy Wonka. Cabin 10 delivered a great rendition of The Breakfast Club. Senior Cabin spoofed Ted. CHASE WEIMAN played the infamous life-sized teddy bear. Each skit had the crowd roaring with laughter, especially the ones that poked some friendly fun at our Menominee staff. However, it was two cabins that came out on top. In the junior and intermediate age groups, Cabin 6 took the prize. Their hilarious rendition of Titanic was a real knee slapper. BRADY WEISS and COOPER SPECTOR embodied the role of Jack and Rose. In the senior age group, Cabin 16 won with their reenactment of Borat. By the end of the night, everyone had a good laugh. It was another successful skit night in Wasserman Hall.

Counselor Profile: Lloyd Parker

Age: 22

Hometown: Cape Town, South Africa

Years at Camp: 1

Camp Activities: Golf, Climbing, Arch/Rif

Favorite Camp Meal: Meatloaf

Favorite Song: "Hello" - Adele

Spirit Animal: Penguin

Least Favorite Drink: Dr. Pepper

Role Model: Will Ferrel

Best Vacation: Thailand

Best Camp Memory: Pre-Camp skit night

ANDREW GALFIELD (center) leads his cabin during their movie night rendition of The Breakfast Club

IAN POGANY (right) hilariously imitates counselor TYLER KOEHLER-DAVIS in cabin 5's movie night skit

NBA Draft Recap

1. Ben Simmons (Philadelphia)
  2. Brandon Ingram (Los Angeles Lakers)
  3. Jaylen Brown (Boston)
  4. Dragan Bender (Phoenix)
  5. Kris Dunn (Minnesota)
  6. Buddy Hield (New Orleans)
  7. Jamal Murray (Denver)
  8. Marquese Chriss (Sacramento: traded to PHX)
  9. Jakob Poeltl (Toronto)
  10. Thon Maker (Milwaukee)
  11. Domantas Sabonis (Orlando: traded to OKC)
  12. Taurean Prince (Utah)
  13. Georgios Papagiannis (Phoenix: traded to SAC)
  14. Denzel Valentine (Chicago)
  15. Juan Hernangomez (Denver)
  16. Guerschon Yabusele (Boston)
  17. Wade Baldwin (Memphis)
  18. Henry Ellenson (Detroit)
  19. Malik Beasley (Denver)
  20. Caris LeVert (Indiana)
  21. DeAndre' Bembry (Atlanta)
  22. Malachi Richardson (Charlotte)
  23. Ante Zizic (Boston)
  24. Timothe Luwawu (Philadelphia)
  25. Brice Johnson (Los Angeles Clippers)
  26. Furkan Korkmaz (Philadelphia)
  27. Pascal Siakam (Toronto)
  28. Skal Labissiere (Phoenix: traded to SAC)
  29. Dejounte Murray (San Antonio)
  30. Damian Jones (Golden State)
- Notable Second Round Picks
31. Deyonta Davis (Boston)
  33. Cheick Diallo (Los Angeles Clippers: traded to New Orleans)
  34. Tyler Ulis (Phoenix)
  36. Malcolm Brogdon (Milwaukee)
  48. Paul Zipser (Chicago)
  50. Michael Gbinije (Detroit)