

The Menominee Megaphone

July 18, 2016 – Second Session Issue

SECOND SESSION! By The Editor

The buses rolled in on Sunday afternoon for second session and instantly, all the campers and counselors were pumped up and ready for the next four weeks to come. Everyone had already had a blast in the first session including the July 4th celebrations at Marimeta, an awesome town day in the lovely town of Minocqua and, of course, everyone's favourite, British and American. However, there is much in store for the second session including Twilight League, Green and White, the Kawaga Completion and some other surprises along the way.

Tom and Mike's Campfire! By the Editor

The first camp-fire kicked off with TOM ADLER performing a song called "Menominee Shoes," that he wrote and composed himself, along with MIKE TAYLOR. It was an instant hit with the campers who memorized the words and melodies. Right from the get-go and began singing it with Tom and Mike. PAM ADLER also made a surprise appearance with her dancing shoes and show-cased a lovely number with her husband Tom. Both received a huge round of applause at the end.

ROOF BALL! – By the Editor

There is a game that's slowly becoming the most popular to play during rest periods and any free times in between activities called, Roof Ball. Campers MORGAN BROOKS, SAM MYERTHALL and KYLE SPIESZ are the few who have been taking part in it, alongside counselors HARJ ORLUKH, ROBBIE ROLFE and JAKE FISHBEIN. It involves the participants forming a line in front of cabin 17, and whoever has the ball must throw it on the roof and the person behind them must catch it and throw it back on the roof, but should be in the air themselves as they throw the ball. If the person behind fails to catch the ball or they throw the ball for the person behind them whilst still having both feet on the ground, they are out of that round. It started with just 5 campers playing it to a massive 32 of them yesterday.

Health Checks! – By the Editor

NURSE DAWN and her assistant NURSE SARAH carried out the very important Health Checks in the lodge. This involved every single camper having their throats and ears checked for any flu symptoms and to check that their temperatures are normal. Their weight was checked to see if they were not abnormally losing or gaining weight, and their heads were checked for any lice, because that's something we do not need at camp. The whole purpose of this exercise is to make sure that everyone is healthy right from the start of the session and to avoid any possible complications later on in the session.

SWIM TEST! By the Editor

The yearly swimming test took place this afternoon. ANDY SCHOFIELD and PAM ADLER, called every cabin down to the lake-front, one by one, to observe and analyse all the campers on their swimming skills. Secret Canteen Number 8. This gave Andy and Pam an idea on who to pay more attention to when they are in the lake. It also helps the campers improve their swimming skills during their time at camp if they aren't so strong to start off with.

CABIN CLEAN UP! By the Editor

It's that time again; DQ IS CALLING! As many of you may already know, cabin clean up plays a very important part in the health and well-being of everyone at camp. There are many illnesses that can be caught by living in unhygienic surroundings and we can have uninvited guests (ants and chipmunks) come into our cabins as well. Every morning, after breakfast, we go into a period of cabin clean-up where floors must be swept and mopped, clothes on shelves must be folded neatly, bathroom sinks and toilets must be cleaned using disinfectant, and the outside grounds must be cleared of any trash. The more times you win with the highest points, the more chance you get of going to DQ! Keep up the good work everyone. Special shout-out goes to DAVID FINFER, ASHER BERMAN, ROWAN HARRISON, RAYMOND DONG, PAYTON PICUS, JONAH FELDMAN AND JAKE FELDMAN from cabin 5 for winning the session's first cabin clean-up!

Stephen Curry Random Facts

1. He holds the record for three-pointers in a season in both the NBA and NCAA.
2. Curry did not receive scholarship offers from any major Division 1 schools. Instead, he received offers only from small schools such as Davidson, VCU and Winthrop.
3. As well as basketball, he is the most accomplished Curry in his family, he went to the least decorated college. He attended Davidson College, while his father and brother attended Virginia Tech and Duke University respectively.
4. Now in his seventh NBA season, he has never shot below 42% from three in a single season.
5. In high school, while in the locker room with his team getting ready for a big game, Steph got so excited that he hit his head on the ceiling while jumping up and down. It wasn't a small bounce either, he needed stitches!
