Sign the cement 2015 by DALE RAWLINGS

It was that time again, cement signing. TOM FEDDERLY and WILL KERR, with help from WOODY, had been working hard all week to remove the old path and set up the new cement ready for everyone. On Tuesday, after breakfast and cabin clean-up, each cabin was called to the front of Cabin 9 to sign their section. Every single person at camp got to sign their name in the cabins for posterity. It was great to see the first-year boys such as SAM STEINER and VAUGHN FRANKEL sign the cement for the first time. Cabin 3 had lots of fun getting mucky with their handprints in the cement. Hopefully they will do it for many more years to come. There was some space left for the staff to put their ideas and comments, which was very cool. The memories made this summer will last a lifetime, and now they're in the cement too. Big shout out to TOM FED and the guys who worked on the path in the sun and rain this week!

Shoe Scramble & Rug Pile by JUSTIN SCHOENEMAN

The morning of Tuesday 4th August, the only 4th of August 2015 there will ever be. We played the Shoe Scramble and the Rug Pile. It was a battle of time for both events. In Shoe Scramble the boys needed to find their shoes in a pile of shoes belonging to the rest of their team. In Rug pile the whole team needed to be on the same rug at one time in any position. This required many boys such as JACK CARTER and ZACH BEN-ISVY to get on the older boys backs to make more room. After a very fast game of Rug Pile, the Green Team fought hard and took home the win. In the Shoe Scramble, once again the boys from the Green team battled through all odds and took home the victory. COOPER SPECTOR was incredibly fast getting his shoes, as well as JACKSON WEIL. The White team Captain was lightning-fast and found his shoes in no time. The Shoe Scramble & The Rug Pile were, once again, a great success! Well done to everyone involved.

British Bulldog by JONAH WEISS

Tuesday included an old camp favorite, British Bulldog. The aim of the game is to get to the oppositions end zone after your number is called, without having your sock pulled from your waist by a defending player. Captain MAX WEINGARDT got right in amongst things and kept his sock close to him. ZACH BEN-ISVY offered a great defense when pulling socks from other campers. WILL FRIEDMAN had a great game and got over the opposing line on a few occasions. Also, DANIEL GOLDSCHMIDT, who accelerated like a cheetah down the flanks. Overall, the game was a great success as usual, and the White team came out on top winning the first two games in an 'out of 3' competition.

Long Drive competition by DALE RAWLINGS

The much anticipated long drive face off was here. Campers had competed beforehand to qualify for the Menominee Masters on our beloved golf course. THOMAS C ADLER was the host for the event and did a terrific job. The winner from the camper's was NOAH LAZARUS, who sent the golf ball into outer space. REMY DOYLE finished in a close second place with a terrific hit down the fairway. The winner for the counselor and staff group was JASON, who amazed the faithful with a stunning drive that just about stayed in bounds. It was an unlucky day for ANDREW BLECHMAN who missed out on the title by just a few feet. ANDY SCHOFIELD sent the ball into, what it seemed like, another field as nobody could locate his ball; it was that far! Overall it was a great competition and everyone enjoyed themselves whether they were participating or a spectator.

Mannequin Madness by REID KANTER

Yesterday, for the evening activity, it was dress-up night for Green & White. The Green team's theme was video game characters while the White team's theme was CM counselors. ROBBY BRINGAS dressed up as Pablo Sanchez, from the video game 'Backyard Baseball and football', while GAVIN BRAMWIT dressed up as myself REID KANTER, which I would say looked rather stunning. MAX WEINGARDT was dressed as a cop from the video game GTA5, but looked more like his usual self, the 'sheriff'. Many campers helped to put clothes on other people such as GRANT HOEGLER and JACKSON FRANKEL who were both very helpful. MORGAN BROOKS dressed up as an assassin from the video game 'Assassins Creed', much to the delight of the audience. It was a fantastic Green & White dress-up night with lots of people having fun. Lucky canteen number 121. In the end the Green team took home the victory with the final score for the night being 5-2. Good luck in the rest of the competition.
