In-Camp Town Day by Editor

This year we couldn't go into town, so we brought town to us! Counselors set up different booths around camp to replicate some of the shops that we usually go to in town. There was fudge, shaved ice and mini-golf, and even a Packerland wheel that campers could spin to win cards or other prizes! Everyone had a lot of fun and in-camp town day was a huge success.

Ingram's Pub by Jack Carter

On Sunday it was more than just Town Day, it was the finals of the Euros 2020 (played a year late because of the pandemic. The match was between Italy and England, so naturally, JOSH INGRAM was very excited about it. INGRAM hosted an English-style pub right out of the living room of the lodge so that everyone who wanted to watch the game could. Most of those who came to watch the match were rooting for England, including camper JOE SAMPSON who lived there. England scored in the second minute and everyone went crazy. Throughout the match, JEREMY BACH was making drinks alongside INGRAM. Because Italy were able to score within regulation time, tying the score at 1 – 1, the match went to penalties. SAM MILLER was on the edge of his seat, hoping for one of the England players - Jaden Sancho - to make his penalty shot, but unfortunately, he missed it. In the end, England were not able to pull out the victory which made JON WOOL visibly upset as well, as the rest of the England fans. Ingram's Pub was a great addition to Town Day and offered a great deal of entertainment.

A Sushi Story... CM Style by Jeff

Toombs

The ancient culinary art of Sushi found its way to the Menominee Mess Hall for Town Day 2021. Sushi sensei JEFF TOOMBS and his Sous Sushi Chefs AIDEN BRAMWIT, BENJIE SOREN, and BENJI GAU rolled out a variety of rolls for the boys. JACK WYATT of Cabin 16

Tattoos and Tarot Cards

imagined. The parlor was run by RYAN FIRMIN and JACK FORMAN, who were both sporting blue jeans and a white t-shirts, and a perfect Italian mobster accent. The room was dark and atmospheric, lit only the faint green light of a desk lamp and the small amount of light coming through the covered-up windows. It was an instant hit with the kids, and many people said it was their favorite place to visit on Town Day. SIMON MANN and JOEY HAZAN are quoted as saying "It was the funniest and most entertaining booth at camp!". The Tattoo Parlor was a huge success for Camp Menominee's first in-camp Town Day ever.

Slip and Slide

by Woody

If it's slippery and slidey, they will come: and so they did! One giant sheet of plastic, a hosepipe, and lots of soap and baby oil, and we have a slip and slide! Behind Cabins 11 and 12, where the land kicks up into a decent 'hill': that's where we laid the plastic down. Underfoot, the grass there is soft and spongy, so it is the perfect place to slip and slide. With so much else going on for Town Day, it took a little while for the boys to come over, but when they did, the fun went off the crazy scale. BENNETT RUE and JOSH SCHREIER couldn't get enough baby oil to aid their slippery descent. XAVIER DUNCAN was simply flying down to the slope, and counselors DYLAN SCHWARTZ, ALEC GAU, and MIHAILO MILUTVONIC made an impressive three-man express train. As the afternoon wore on, so more and more people joined us. JACOB KASDIN and PRINCETON JACKSON were having too much fun, and DRAKE ELMAN, while reluctant at first, soon got into the swing of things. The Slip and Slide will reappear next session, but for now, we just have some great memories to sustain us until then.

Advice Column

by Cooper Spector

Recently, JAKE GOODMAN taught me all there was to know about bonds. Bonds are the key element of the United States economy. In a study by The Ohio State University Economics System, the top one hundred richest people in the Northshore do not own bonds, but that doesn't say anything about bonds. In a recent interview with JASON FELDGREBER, JASON stated "bonds are what inspire me to keep pushing in life they have helped me become the man I am today and have formed my amazing legacy." Also, in a statement by RYAN FIRMIN, he stated "I don't know much about economics, but James Bond is a great movie." Clearly, the intellectual campers and staff here at CM support the purchases and use of bonds.
