CEMENT SIGNING EDITION

JULY 30, 2021

Cement Signing by Editor

It was that time of year again, signing the cement (concrete, really, but what the heck)! After running out of sidewalk down by Cabin 13 where the 2020 CM Resort cement is located, the decision was made to have the 2021 cement located at the tetherball court in between Cabins 4 and 5. On Thursday morning, CRAIG and JOE began to fill up the court with wet cement, ready to be signed. Each Cabin was called up to the tetherball court, a couple at a time to avoid the whole camp being there at once. JEREMY KOHLNEBRENER worked on the amazing CM logo beside the Admin cement, and PAMELA ADLER had the great idea to leave a 2021 Menominee Legends pin in the cement as well. Everyone had fun writing their names, inside jokes, and camp memories into the cement.

Everyone circled around the fresh cement eager to sign their names.

Shoe Scramble by Micah Blum

On a hot, sunny afternoon in the Northwoods, both Green and White teams were whisked off into the Gully for an all-time favorite event, Shoe Scramble! The game is played by scrambling every member of the Green or White team's shoes into one big pile, and then each team sends someone to go find their own shoes one at a time. It is harder than it looks, and everyone had a tough time. BRADY WEISS went first for the White Team, and JACOB SCHNEIDER went first for the Green Team. Both crashed into the pile and ravaged through it to find their shoes. Those with black Nikes, such as NATE BEERMANN, had a tough time finding their shoes as they were the most popular shoes at camp. BRAYDEN SHAPRIO found his navy blue Adidas shoes very quickly, as they easier to spot. In the end, the Green Team won in this neck-and-neck affair.

Counselor Hunt by Brady Weiss

Boy oh boy, this was a Counselor Hunt for the ages. This so called "hunt for the counselors" started just as the sun was central of east and west. After rest period, all of the campers, counselors, and CITs gathered in Wass Hall to hear that we would be playing Counselor Hunt. After a brief explanation of the rules, the counselors had fifteen minutes to go hide while the overall captains formed groups. They all had one goal in mind: to find as many counselors as they could. Just as the game began, the White Team took an early lead as SAMMY MILCH and ASHER AVADEK found JAKE GOODMAN and JASON right off the bat. The White Team was leading throughout most of the game, until they finally secured the victory when JOEY HOFFMAN and MATTHEW HARFIELD found LOUIE KANTER, JACK BEHAR, and the rest of their age group. Once all of the groups had checked in at the Green Benches, it was apparent that the White Team had taken a clean victory over the Greens. WOODY had a bounce-back after not being found this year, as last time out (2019) he was unsuspectingly found for the first time in his decades at camp. Will he go on another thirty-year streak?

On This Day in Menominee History...

In 1995, a forgotten Sun and Wind event entitled "Chubby Bunny" was played, in which campers would try to fit as many marshmallows in their mouth as possible. The Wind Team, captained by ROSS AUSLANDER, defeated the Sun Team, captained by STEWART AUSLANDER, in the event.

Creatively Acquire by Jack Forman

Few games are as synonymous with camp as Creatively Acquire the Energy Source. To start the game off strong, ASHER DIAMOND set an incredible block for TYLER FIELD to return the energy source for the White Team. In another round, JACK MYERTHALL (of the White Team) broke a gentlemen's agreement and stole the energy source while the other players on the field were playing rock, paper, scissors. After some more back and forth, the first game went to the White Team and it was time to switch sides. In the first round of the second game, EVAN LIEBERMAN sacrificed his body for the play as he made a diving tag for a defensive point. Notably, BENNY GOLDBERG took the energy source and passed it back to JASON NEIDER who ran the length of the pitch before lobbing the energy source to RYAN MARTIN who had a toe-touch catch along the line to score the Green Team three points. The second game went to the Greens, which meant there was a tiebreaker game that would decide the winner of the event. In the tiebreaker, Green Team member SANTIAGO FAVELA rolled around the White Team member MAX KIRSCH and passed the energy source to JACK CARTER, who caught it gracefully with his chest. However, MICAH BLUM ran the energy source back in the following round, securing a much needed victory for the White Team.
